"EVERYTHING GOOD MUST COME TO AN END"

Thanks for all the fun we've had
We've been together through the good and the bad
But now we must go our separate ways
And for this I am eternally sad

We've known each other for so very long
I never thought this day would come
But now that it is finally here
Don't think you'll leave without a tear

I've said this often and I'll say it once more
If there was one thing I could wish for
It would be to spend eternity with you
But I am afraid this we can't do, because

Everything good must come to an end
You've got to pick up the pieces and start over again
But don't think for a minute I'll forget you my friend
It's just everything good must come to an end

You were always there to turn things around
Make me feel good when I was down
Now time is taking you and it doesn't care
There's some parts of life that will never be fair

You were the one who made me feel right
Now who can I call when I'm alone at night
You were my candle in the window, my wing on a prayer
But now I realize you'll no longer be there, because

Everything good must come to an end
You've got to pick up the pieces and start over again
But don't think for a minute I'll forget you my friend
It's just everything good must come to an end

Thanks for all the fun we've had
We've been together through the good and the bad
But now we must go our separate ways
And for this I am eternally sad

Words from Mr. Fleming

Dear Members of the Class of 1993,

As principal, I am yearly afforded the opportunity to offer a written perspective concerning the characteristics and accomplishments of that year's graduating class.

To properly attend to such a responsibility is important because any such grouping of thoughts should rightfully add to the joys of the moment as well as provide an accurate reservoir of emotional significance when examined in the future.

The Class of 1993 will always be remembered by this educator as a group of young people who dealt with and overcame severe adversity with courage, quiet pride and tenacity.

One of the members won a four year scholarship to the University of Massachusetts through competitive examination, another skated successfully against the best female figure skaters in America, four others created a state record in the relay, beat massive Brockton High School, and raced at the Eastern States Invitationals at Princeton University. The girls varsity programs in Field Hockey and Soccer made it to state level competition, as did the boys and girls teams in Basketball, many in the class helped the indigent in society through participation in the Bread and Roses program in neighboring Lawrence, and an individual took the time to teach a blind person to dance.

As many as 80% of you will, as is our tradition, probably continue your education.

Your class represents the value base of its parents who are clearly hard working dedicated people. Believe in yourselves and know that I will always consider it a privilege to have served as your principal.

Sincerely,

Paul T. Fleming

CLASS

Twenty years from now, at our Reunion, the Bottom Ten roll out the red carpet, as Mr. Gillis pulls up in our brand new Mercedes. His first and only words as he steps out of the car are "Hey kids, what did I tell you, it passes like the snap of a finger." After passing the breathalizer test and the National Guard, we have finally all gathered once again at the Knights of Columbus.

Welcome Back Class of 93!

First arriving at the door without an invitation, of course, is the press. They have come back to try and dig up some bad times left behind from the 92-93 school year, hoping for some new headlines.

After gathering as a class once again, we have all realized the many changes that have taken place.

Joe Accardi is still working out daily to try and live up to his nickname.

Russ Allard and Matt Devine are now co-owners of a surf shop manufacturing hippie sandals worldwide.

Mike Alonardo has now taken over Larry Bird's position on the Celtics.

Mike Alpers is now in jail for Lav Malpractice.

Erika Anderson wasn't invited because of the peanut incident.

Jim Angiolillo is still fighting at the McDonald's in Tewksbury.

Tom Aprile is still trying to make up excuses to be mad at Jessica.

John Austin has now opened his own tight pants company.

Dan Ballou was unable to attend after his head exploded.

Anne Marie Barletta has overcome her seatbelt fixation.

Paula Barrett is now the President of Depends Undergarments.

Rob Beals is still leaving Wilmington . . .

Henry Belding is still hoping to someday play for the WHS baseball team.

Jeff Berg is now a world famous artist.

Lynette Berger has arrived with Bob on one arm and Randy on the other.

Jennifer Bickford is now plowing snowbanks.

Kyle Bishop owns his own junkyard to fix up all his old cars.

Melanie Blake is just driving around because she doesn't know where she belongs.

Rick Blizzard has beaten Chuck Norris in a Kung Fu match.

Tim Bolger is now manufacturing the new and improved Curb Cruiser.

Becky Bouchie is starring as Peppermint Patty in the New Charlie Brown.

Andy Bower is the new Mr. Universe.

Keri Bowlby is the new Pat on Saturday Night Live.

Erica Brodie had to leave the reunion ½ hour early to go to work.

Tara Buccaroni is leading our troops in World War 3.

After much personal research and practice, John Burke has successfully rewritten the song, "I'm Just a Gigolo."

Steve Burns is still driving on Rte. 93.

Greg Cardello is now a 300 lb. AAU director.

Bridget Carey is still trying to get her car from the tow truck.

Dave Cargill had to leave the reunion early so he could go and write on the walls in the Senior Lounge.

Patty Carroll is now under therapy.

Matt Carroza is an Olympic long distance runner.

Cathy Carter is the proud park owner of Bertucci's.

Joe Catanzano is starring as Fred in the New Flinstones movie.

Jen Chappie has arrived in her unique blue station wagon.

Jeff Chin has finally spoken his first words to the Class of 93.

Peter Cunningham has replaced Eddie Van Halen in Van Halen.

Sharon Dalio is now starring in Jaws 6.

Maria D'Ambrosio was unable to attend because she was going Clubbing.

Gary Danehy is now running his own escort service.

Rachel Day owns her own paint store.

Lori DeAmato has worn the white t-shirt that we know you guys love so much.

Chris DeFrancesco is a famous artist.

Alan Dellascio is directing horror films.

Dave Dellascio is now the host of Saturday Night Live.

Matt Delucia is publishing Sexy Matt Magazine.

Rich Delucia is an official Tow Truck Driver.

Shane DeMaggio, otherwise known as Shana, shows up dressed as a woman.

Charleen DeStefano has been committed to Committees and Clubs Anonymous.

Dan DiCenso now writes comic strips for the Boston Globe.

Anthony DiGiovanni is still Italian.

Jacqui Dileo is still working at Papa Gino's.

Mike Doucette is now on America's Most Wanted for fighting Becky Bouchie.

Chad Downs has taken over his uncle's position and is the Head Custodian at Wilmington High School.

Mike Dubois is still the Bear.

Cathy Dukeshire was banned from the reunion by Russell for wearing red lipstick, baggy pants, and curling her hair.

Jen Dunnell and Christine King are now living with Ms. Aldrich. Kudos to them!

Jay Earley has finally arrived, better late than never, Jay.

Dave Ellis has gone solo after his group decided to leave him.

Jen Esher is married but dislikes her husband. If she only knew how to say NO!

Jen Fales has finally married Dan Santos.

Jim Fardy has taken over for his father as a science teacher at Wilmington High School.

Lisa Fardy is a professional nurse.

Amanda Farkas is still trying to qualify for the US Olympic Team.

Kerri Feyler has come with no date because she is not ready for a relationship, and those 5 guys are just friends.

Matt Finn now hosts his own late night talk show.

Charlene Fox is a pro volleyball player.

Derek Fullerton is now manufacturing Taco Blankets.

Josh Gardner is still trying to be the best dressed at WHS.

Keri Gennetti and Dave Oatis are the co-owners of Buns of Steel.

Alyssa Georgelis is the spokesmodel for Panteen. Don't hate her because she's beautiful.

Jen Geraneo is now driving in the Indi 500.

Missy Gill is the inventor of hot lips lipstick for all those girls with hot lips for cold guys.

Dave Godin was unable to make it because he is still running from Mary Jane on the Hampton boardwalk.

Dennis Godin couldn't come until Mary Jane bailed him out of jail.

Kristen Goglia is still in tears after the WHS rumble.

Darryl Grant is a major league pitcher

Chris Gray is the new Drivers Ed instructor.

Steve Grecoe is posing for Playboy.

Kristen Hall couldn't come because she forgot to ask her mother a week ahead of time.

Stephanie Hancock can still be found sitting in the Senior Lounge 5th period.

Jessica Harrison is still apologizing to Tommy.

Janel Holloway couldn't make it because she was too busy filling the requirements to . . . I never.

Julie Howard is still reading her Aldrich stories out loud to herself

Jerry Hurley is finally the starting goalie for the Wilmington High hockey team.

PROPHECY

After years of counseling, Sheila Thornton has finally stopped apologizing.
Jen Toce has moved back to Everett.
Dave Toto has lost all of his hair and gained 100 lbs.
Joe Trevisone owns his own candy store, knowing that he can't eat the profits.
Natalie Trio is resting peacefully in her white room reading to herself.
Jeff Valiere has finally made it to Middlesex without killing Mike or himself.
Brandee Walden has finally gone back to Tom Siracusa.
Chris Waterhouse is living happily with his Vietnamese pot belly pig.
Kim White was found rummaging through Salvation Army boxes for a new outfit.
Rob Whitebone is the new Data on Star Trek.
Mark Woodbury has chipmunk cheeks after blowing his trumpet for so many years.
Melinda Wright is the new "Office of the Nineties" teacher at WHS.
Helana Yau is now able to speak every possible language.
Tom Zaya has finally met a girl who doesn't just want to be friends.

As always with the Class of '93, we have shared some great memories throughout the evening. Before you leave, be sure to sign your name, time leaving, and next destination with the police officer at the door. Thank you all very much for attending. We hope to see you all again soon. Goodnight . . . Oh wait, Erika, before we go would you like to address the class?

Class History

On Septembr 1989, our class entered Wilmington High School. With our advisor, Mr. Jim Gillis, we elected Tom Killilea, President; Keri Gennetti, Vice President; Rebecca Bouchie, Secretary; and Janel Holloway Treasurer. Freshman year was a year that will never be forgotten. The food fights, smoke bombs, and the pulled fire alarms were all new to us, just as the seniors were. Oh yeah, who was that pervert that pulled the fire alarm? We all attended the Freshman-Senior Buddy Breakfast, and how can we forget our great field trip to Canobie Lake that went so well?

The year is now 1990 and we are Sophomores. Our Sophomore Semi, I mean Halfway-Dance, was held at the Knights of Columbus on May 3. The boys varsity soccer team became the North Sectional Champs. Both the boys varsity hockey team and the girls varsity field hockey team made it to the state tournament. We "walked out" onto the common to protest the teacher layoffs and other cuts, but of course no one was listening. And let us all remember President Bush declaring war on January 16, 1991 on Iraq; Desert Storm as we know it.

Our Junior year we elected new class officers. Lee Iannachino, President; Joe Scifo, Vice President; Rebecca Bouchie, Secretary; and Jessica Harrison, Treasurer. Our Junior Prom was held at Hillview Country Club on May 1. Our theme song which evryone loved so much was "Set the Night to Music." The queen of the court was Carolyn Parsons and the king was Kyle Bishop and, yes, his mom did work there. We all attended Wingarsheek the next day and had a great time. Our football team defeated Tewksbury at the Annual Thanksgiving Game, the only turkey game won in our four years at WHS. Barrows Auditorium was renovated but we didn't know what it looked like for the longest time.

The final year of our high school career was filled with excitement. We all arrived on the first day with hats on. NOT! Now Sports. For a small school we were pretty famous making all the prime time networks and every newspaper. Why? Can I say that word? You know the one that begins with an H! Still thinking . . . ? Ask the football team. Despite that, the girls field hockey and soccer teams kept it together and made it to the State Tournament. John O'Reilly, Shane DeMaggio, and Kerri Feyler were chosen as kings and queen for the Homecoming Court; yes that's right, two kings. A fun and enjoyable '93 Day Party was held at the Knights of Columbus on the 25th of February. We had 16 Business Professional of America members compete at the Nationals in Texas. Five of them won and out of those, four were seniors. On April 29, Mr. Joyce's A.P. English class presented "Life and Language: The Light and the Dark." And by having the Church Street Challenge, the seniors definitely won back their pride by wearing blue and white and claiming first prize. The Senior Lounge was repainted by three infamous senior girls (JH, KS, BB). Oh my gosh, how could I forget the 4x400 relay, "TOMAHAWK," and Dennis too. The team we rallied to victory. On Thursday, May 20, we all witnessed "The Last Call" for Cheers, a show that we will all miss. The Senior Prom was held at Castleton on May 27, the same day as sign-out. And yes, we did have a court because it's a "tradition." The king and the queen of the court were Steve Grecoe and Cathy Carter. The Academic Convocation was on June 11 and Graduation followed on June 13, 1993. We seniors took that time to say good-bye to classmates and faculty and, of course, Mr. Fleming. Mr. Gillis always said that these four years would go by like a snap of his fingers. Who would have ever believed him? One more thing, to all the bird watchers, the scavengers will be out at 7:30. Right Keri? And the pervert is Scott MacKenzie!

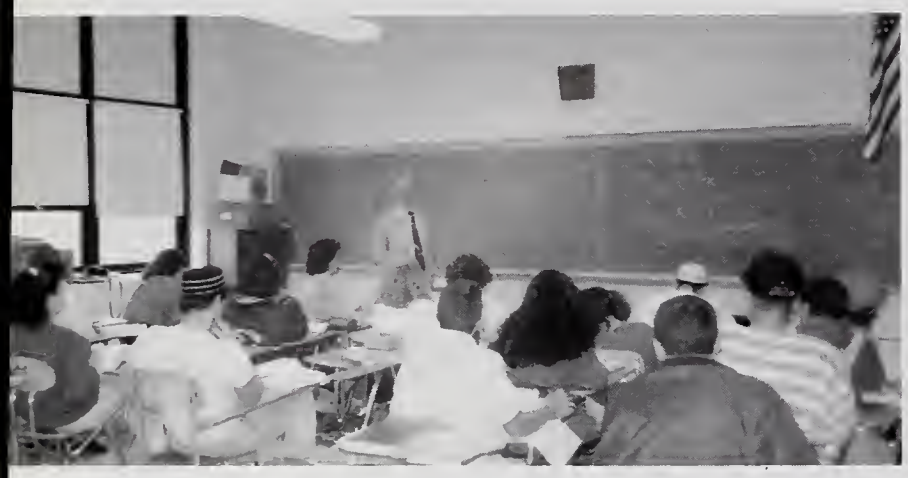
"YOU ARE AN INSPIRATION, MR. KELLEY"



To our class, the yearbook represents a treasure chest filled with all the memories we would like to hold onto forever. The memoirs consist of events, places, and special people from our four years at Wilmington High School. There is one particular person who enters the mind when reflecting back on these years. He symbolizes honor, . . . courage, . . . love, . . . knowledge, . . . and friendship. Perhaps . . . he is a legend.
This year the class of 93 would like to dedicate its yearbook to Mr. Frank P. Kelley. He started teaching at this school in 1958. At the same time he originated the track program in Wilmington. As a teacher, his intelligence is shared equally among each student. He will work for hours and will even give his phone number to any student who is having a problem. He has the unique ability to make learning enjoyable. The true love he has for teaching is genuine and is displayed each day. To the class he is not a teacher, but . . . more a father. As a coach, he takes pride in his team no matter what the final outcome. The word "discouraged" is foreign to his vocabulary. Trying your best makes everyone a winner to Mr. Kelley. When seeking any extra assistance, he will always spare his time to the track, in rain, snow, or under any condition. There is definitely someone magical under that white safari hat, someone who has donated half his life to the sport of track.

There is something almost unbelievable about a man who remembers every person who sat in what seat, or what he scored on a particular test from 1975 onward. It's amazing. No . . . he is! Mr. Kelley is the favorite of so many.

It's not just because of his teaching because Lord knows, not one of us can pass his tests.

It's not just because of his classical jokes either although he does have the power to make anyone laugh, even if it's not funny.

He is the favorite because of his respect for students.

Also, Mr. Kelley is willing to listen and to be a friend.

We have chosen Mr. Kelley because of the effect he has had on all of our lives. Although he is retiring next year, his walk and shadow will linger in the hallways forever. He is a part of this institution and will never be forgotten. It is only unfortunate that someday our children will not get the privilege to meet this truly remarkable man . . . There could never be another.

We love you, Mr. Kelley, and thank you for being you. It is our honor to dedicate our yearbook to you. Your name will never be mentioned without a smile.

To our class, Mr. Kelley represents a shiny piece of gold that will last a lifetime in our treasure chest of memories.

Mr. Edward Woods with members of the Class of '93.

A Wish for the Class of 1993

It has been a volatile year for the Class of '93. Yet, throughout all the adversity, the class has accomplished much both educationally and athletically.

The past year will hopefully serve as a springboard of understanding, compassion, and love for your fellow students and mankind in general.

I wish you all success in your future endeavors.

Sincerely,

Edward J. Woods

CLASS OF 1993 LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

I, Mike Alonardo, leave my tan to Dave Fleming.

I, Jim Angiolillo, leave knowing I have to come back next year.

I, Dan Ballou, leave my brother what it takes to have a good football team, to stay away from girls, and have a fun year.

I, Paula Barrett, leave my uncontrolled bladder to the science department for experiments.

I, Henry Belding, leave behind to Michelle Caples, a pair of boxing gloves, and a piece of advice, "You'd have more friends if you didn't beat them up!"

I, Lynette Berger, leave my great ability to look miserable throughout the year, as if I were angry with everyone, to Erin Falzone.

We, Jennifer Bickford and Kristen Goglia, leave Amy Moniz our anatomy notebooks. Maybe she'll find some use for them.

I, Kyle Bishop, leave W.H.S. still wondering what being a pervert has to do with pulling a fire alarm.

We, Becky Bouchie and Jess Harrison, leave Rick and Billy to rule Adams St., all the pickles and ghosts in the graveyard games, and don't forget MARKIOO!

I, Keri Bowlby, leave my car in the student parking lot because it never started anyway.

I, Tara Buccaroni, leave far too many depressing days with Kurt Vonnegut, Jr., to the unfortunate classes to come.

I, Patty Carroll, leave 3 ½ hours to Shannon Danehy and vitamins to Amy Moniz.

I, Peter Cunningham, leave little green frogs and spilt milk to Steve Jansen.

I, Gary Danehy, leave the ability to gross out any living human to anybody who can uphold my reputation.

I, Lori DeAmato, leave all of my leftover trash bags from whenever Paula went in my car.

I, Dave Dellascio, leave NOTHING!

I Rich Delucia, leave my hair to Dave Dussault because I know he needs it.

I, Dan Dicenso, leave the mattress and press box to my brother Damien.

I, Anthony DiGiovanni, leave my witty charm and good looks to Mark.

I, Chad Downs, leave Rick Bouchie my chick scooping abilities.

We, Cathy Dukeshire and Cathy Carter, leave Michelle Caples the ability to get over ignorant men, because she deserves the best.

I, Jennifer Dunnell, leave my Madonna/Cher clothes to anyone daring enough to wear them and willing to put up with the crap for wearing them.
I, Jay Earley, leave the Danny Sullivan in me to Dave Fleming.

I, Dave Ellis, leave with a big fat hat . . . on my head!

I, Jen Fales, leave Jeannine, Rebecca, and Raquel my car so they won't need any rides home again.

I, Amanda Farkas, leave roses on Mike Barry's doorstep.

I, Matt Finn, leave all my bathroom passes to my brother.

I, Derek Fullerton, leave Rick Bouchie my chick-magnet because his doesn't seem to work.

I, Josh Gardner, leave Brian Malzak a new wardrobe of GQ suits, preppie clothes, CB tie tacks, and a really tight belt so he can become the man he never was.

I, Keri Gennetti, leave my ability to tumble down a hill, sprain my ankle, and not spill my drink to anyone who can handle it.

I, Alyssa Georgelis, leave this thought to the softball team, "Enjoy it while it lasts, you won't be playing for long!"

I, Melissa Gill, leave my hot lips to my sister Holly, hopefully she'll get more use out of them than I did. (I doubt it!)

I, Janel Hollaway, leave knowing my brother Billy will have four worry free years of Wildcat Football.

I, Julie Howard, leave a key to unlock the cliques and a copy of the Enquirer to all who need to gossip.

I, Gerald Hurley, leave Mr. Woods an outfit that matches.

I, Lee Iannacchino, leave the field hockey team hoping you beat the curse of Manchester-by-the-Sea!

We, Julie Kane and Leah Mazzoni, leave our horns to any underclassmen who can continue the "Hey!"

I, Thomas Killilea, leave with my hair and voice because nobody else can handle them.

I, Tim O'Dea, leave a life size poster of myself to next year's freshman girls so they can see what they missed.

I, Stephanie O'Donahue, leave Marco Vitale, Jay Gusto's bathroom all to himself.

I, Dave Oatis, leave my Big Bum raggings to Brent Carbone.

I, Eric O'Melia, leave my greasy melon top to Mike Pastori.

I, Nicole Oulette, leave Mr. Callahan to Luana, Stacey, and Angela because they wouldn't be able to get him any other way.

I, Matt Penny, leave Matt Carroza nothing for soon he will be emptying trash cans outside my estate.

I, Jennifer Robbins, leave determined to return and run this town correctly.

I, Jill Rogers, leave my "Frost Heaves" sign and a smoke detector for the bathroom.

I, Jenn Samatis, leave the basketball cheerleaders just what they wanted — my white skirt.

I, Joe Scifo, leave 20 lbs. to Eric Anderson & Robbins, & Steve Walsh. Wear It Well!

I, Jay Silverstein, leave a full roll of pennies to Keith Pearlstein.

I, Jenna Solari, leave Ryan Kane a bottle of head shrinking pills and some maturity to take to college with him.

I, Jenn Splaine, leave my pink colors and hives to anyone who wants them.

I, Marianne Thompson, leave knowing Melissa Goglia and her boyfriend will break up a million times but will always get back together.

I, Sheila Thornton, leave my "strut" and "fashion show walk" to Colleen Fog, Lyn Rebelo, Angela Rongone, and Jen Kilburn.

I, Jennifer Toce, leave Jeff Morin all of my 34 D's and a pile of napkins.

I, Dave Toto, leave W.H.S. knowing I'll be back every day to pick up my girlfriend.

I, Natalie Trio, leave "Pat" to Jackie Geraneo, mushroom dip, a box of broken crackers and my stories for Rob Brisbois to tell.

I, Brandee Walden, leave Fay the title, Jimmy G. a life, and Grace her cheeks.

I, Mark Woodbury, leave high school without making sense to anyone.

I, Helena Yau, leave my BPA titles to anyone who says, "Me not speak English."

I, Tom Zaya, leave Jenna Volpe to John Lynch.

We, the nature girls, leave all our blue eyeliner and hairspray to the girls who gave us the name.

We, Mr. Fessenden's 1st period class, leave him a hearing aid.

We, the girls of '93, leave the girls of '95 dateless for their junior prom, knowing the boys of '93 are coming with us! Sorry!

I, Mr. Gillis, leave the class of '93, memories and a "snap of the fingers."

We, BPA members, leave Mr. Nee, who's only a chaperone, a troll so he can get a free meal at T.G.I.F.'s, but only if it's 10 to 1, 1 to 6, or all 16.

I, Kerri Feyler, leave knowing I learned who my real friends are!!!

I, Scot MacKensie, leave my car for next year's operation safe prom.

We, Steve Grecoe and Matt Devine, leave our heads and sandals to the underclassmen wanna be's, because we know how much they like them.

I, Erika Anderson, leave behind respirators and also the Top 10 knowing I'm 86 and proud of it.

CHURCH STREET CHALLENGE

The first annual Church Street Challenge took place on March 26, 1993. A steering committee of faculty, parents, and students spent many hours planning and organizing this event. Students signed up and competed in various areas of interest. Competitions were held in performing arts, creative arts, academics, and sports. Final events were held in the gym during the afternoon for the enjoyment of the entire student body and staff.

The senior class garnered the highest point total to take first place in the Challenge, while second place went to the sophomores. Everyone who participated was a winner, however, as the event proved a positive experience for all.

HIGHLIGHT ON: YEARBOOK

The yearbook staff works hard all year long to recognize and cover all the important events of the year. Each area of student life is represented in photographs to create a lasting memory. Working in conjunction with a photographer and yearbook representative, staff members learn methods and techniques necessary for turning out a volume of one hundred and sixty-eight pages.

Producing a yearbook encompasses a variety of areas which include fundraising, sales, journalism, photography, layout, graphics, and organization. It requires a committment of time and interest which must be sustained from September to June. The finished product is enjoyed by all, but is valued most by those who have worked so diligently toward its completion.

The team's 3-7 record did not accurately reflect its ability. This team had to overcome a lot of adversity and media attention. Despite all this, the Wildcat football team stuck together beating Dracut, Lawrence, and North Reading.

For the Wildcat Soccer Team the 1992 season was a perplexing one. Although the team played well in almost every game, they had great difficulty scoring goals. Consequently, the team ended the season with a 5-11-2 record. In a bizarre twist, the Wildcats ended the season with three consecutive victories over teams which qualified for the state tournament. David Oatis scored 12 goals on the season and was one of the top three goal scorers in the league, as well as being a Conference All Star. Captains Rob Beals, Kevin MacArthur, Shane DeMaggio, as well as seniors Kyle Bishop and Tom Zaya, all made it to the Senior Bowl Team and represented the school very well.

The Girls Varsity Soccer Team had a great season this year with the help of the wonder balls on the side line. With the help of Buddah and achieving Nirvana we made it to the State Tournament. We suffered a great loss in the tournament to Georgetown. We had Adrienne Fay, Jill Murphy, Nancy Pote, and Jen Murray attend the All-Star game. Just remember team "When we say blue, You say white."

WILDCAT FIELD HOCKEY

The field hockey team completed one of its most successful seasons finishing with a record of 14-2-2. The team advanced to the state semi-finals only to lose to Manchester AGAIN! Nicole Oulette, Lynette Berger, and Karen Semonelli were chosen for the All-Conference Team. Keri Bowlby was chosen for the All-Star Team. Lynette Berger was also selected for All-State. The team had a great season and a lot of fun. We will never forget the dinners, Rockport, pumpkins, the wonderball and, of course, Miss Cassidy. Oh, by the way Miss Cassidy, we really did buy the pumpkin at Yentiles. Thanks for a great season. Good luck next year! GO GREEN!!

The boys cross country team led by captain Rick Blizzard worked hard all year with Mr. Kelly's help. The girls cross country team led by captain Leah Mazzoni also practiced hard and never gave up. Captain Leah Mazzoni managed to finish in the top five in all dual meets. The boys and girls teams both had a lot of injuries but they made a strong effort to compete whenever possible. Junior Brendan Rogers performed well in the big meets and remained Wilmington's top runner. The Cross Country' Cats always ran with pride.

The boys track team came off a decent season finishing 2-6. The team lacked depth but competed hard everyday. Outstanding efforts were put in by Dan Ballou, Rick Blizzard, Brendan Rogers, and the sophomore relay team. Jay Morin threw consistently all year long in the shotput while the team got a big boost when Dennis Godin made the huge comeback. No one will ever forget Dennis' words, "If you plan on failing off a team, Don't!" The 4 by 400 relay team of Zaya, Killilea, Aprile and Ballou won the state championship. The seniors would like to thank Mr. Cripps and Mr. Kelley for their hard work and dedication throughout the years.

The girls track team had a tough season this year. They worked very hard and tried their best. Their individual efforts were excellent and many personal records were achieved. The practices were challenging and the meets were stressful, but it was all worth it because, "Pain is temporary, pride lasts forever, and glory lasts a lifetime." Although they didn't win any meets, they were still an outstanding team because they learned to be supportive and encouraging to one another. New friendships were made and the memories of all the fun times they had together will last forever.

The boys 4x400 relay team had the most successful track season in WHS history. The team consisted of Tom Zaya, Tom Killilea, Tom Aprile, Dan Ballou, and Dan Godin. They started the season at the Dartmouth Relays, finishing second behind Brockton by .09. From there the team won the Northern Area Meet and the Class C State Relays in easy fashion. The next week they competed at the Class C State Meet and won that as well. The relay team would finally seek revenge on Brockton at the State Meet. Not only did the team win the race, but they also set the meet record with a time of 3:24.5. The next day the team competed at the Princeton Relays in New Jersey but finished a disappointing ninth. At the New England Championship Meet the relay team won its race and was crowned New England Champs. Another accolade was added when the team received recognition from Track and Field magazine as one of the top five relay teams in the nation. The relay team would like to thank Coach Cripps, Coach Kelley, and all those who supported us throughout the season.

The Wildcats topped off a 21-2 season with an exciting 6-3 win over Mt. Greylock at O'Gara Park in Spencer, Mass. Behind the solid pitching of Adrienne Fay and the bats of Nicole Ouellette, Stacy Gillis, Nancy Pote, Carrie Tarantino, and Lynette Berger, the 'Cats built their lead. Although Mt. Greylock attempted a last inning rally, they were unable to overtake a confident Wilmington Squad.

This season the boys' only win came against Lawrence. Despite a losing record, outstanding performances were put in by underclassmen. This season we had several runners who qualified for state competition including Brenden Rogers, Jason Morin in the shot put, Rick Bizzard, and the Relay Team of Tom Zaya, Dennis Godin, Tom Aprile and Dan Ballou. In the Class Championship, the two season sport star, Tom Aprile, placd second in the 200 while Dan Ballou also placed second. The relay set a new class record on route to their first victory. The team were the lone runners to compete in the All States where they placed third and also placed third in the New England Track Championships. The seniors woud like to thank Mr. Cripps and Mr. Kelley for all their hard work and wish the underclassmen good luck in the future.

Although there weren't many members, the girls spring track team had lots of talent. Captains Jessica Harrison and Jill Murphy worked hard, along with the rest of the team, in improving their times or distances in each meet. Both the 4x400 and 4x100 relay teams made it to the states as well as a few others in individual events. You all should be proud of yourselves. Got to love track!! Good Luck next year and remember — glory lasts a lifetime.

GRADUATION

June 13, 1993

On a hot, cloudless Sunday afternoon, the Class of 1993 said its final farewell to Wilmington High School. As family, friends, and faculty proudly looked on, the graduates took the field led by Marshalls Keri Bowlby and Jenna Solari. Valedictorian Leah Mazzoni, Salutatorian Joshua Gardner, and Honor Essayist Lori DeAmato each took a turn at the podium.
